

TANDY VERSY

Is a writer in Seattle with a special interest in engaging multiple audiences through storytelling and creative collaboration

contact

WWW.TANDYVERSY.COM
TANDY@TANDYVERSY.COM | 325-669-6933

education

SAVANNAH COLLEGE OF ART AND DESIGN
BFA, CREATIVE WRITING, MINOR IN FILM/TV
2005 - 2009

EMERSON COLLEGE
MFA, WRITING FOR FILM AND TV
2018-2020

publications

CONTRIBUTOR/EDITOR
THE CURE FOR IDK: 36 WRITING LESSONS TO
MAKE YOUR STUDENTS LOL
KILLINGSWORTH, CATHERINE.
DEEP CENTER, INC. FEBRUARY 16, 2011

experience

DOMESTIC OUTREACH SPECIALIST | SEP 2017-MARCH 2020
NEW YORK FILM ACADEMY | LOS ANGELES, CA

I'm responsible for recruiting applicants for admission in Washington, Oregon, Colorado, and Vancouver, BC and conducting interviews and auditions to determine prospective students' eligibility. I organize school visits, identify untapped markets for recruitment, and coordinate NYFA's presence at Recruitment Events both domestically and internationally. I create and maintain relationships with NYFA staff members, parents, and prospective students. I represent NYFA various presentations and events as needed, and lead individual and group tours in-house.

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF ADMISSION | AUG 2014-SEP 2017
SAVANNAH COLLEGE OF ART AND DESIGN | SEATTLE, WA

I identified and recruited the highest quality students for all SCAD campuses and all market segments. I built good relationships and created networking opportunities with teachers, counselors, students, parents, and alumni that benefit the college through extensive international and domestic travel, dynamic presentations, and individual attention.

COORDINATING PRODUCER | MAY 2014-APR 2015
SUDDEN OWL | SAVANNAH, GA & SEATTLE, WA

Working with George Dawes Green and producer Kimberly Faith Waid, I sought out talented cinematographers, sound designers, and storytellers to capture one minute stories/impressions for Sudden Owl — Mr. Green's web-adaptation of his successful NPR program, "The Moth."

COMMUNICATIONS COORDINATOR | JUN-AUG 2014
DEEP CENTER, INC. | SAVANNAH, GA

In this position, I designed and provided copy for the new Deep Center website, maintained and provided growth for social media outlets, and worked with the Executive Director to write/edit the monthly newsletter. Upon leaving, I grew Deep's social media outlet reach by 31%, created a simpler, more dynamic website, and put in place two new systems that Deep still uses today.

SOCIAL MEDIA MANAGER | SEP 2011-MAY 2012
DEEP CENTER, INC. | SAVANNAH, GA

I monitored, maintained, and provided growth for Deep's social media outlets.

INTERN | FEB-DEC 2009
ATLANTIC INTRACOASTAL WATERWAY ASSOCIATION | RALEIGH, NC

I wrote articles for the monthly newsletter and promoted and provided support for the annual AIWA Conference in Savannah, Georgia.

INTERN | JUN-AUG 2008
CONNECT SAVANNAH | SAVANNAH, GA

I pitched story ideas and wrote articles for the Savannah alternative weekly newspaper.

volunteer experience

LEAD/ASSISTANT WRITING FELLOW | SEP 2009-AUG 2011
DEEP CENTER, INC. | EDUCATION

One of the very first group of Writing Fellows, I helped Catherine Killingsworth start the organization by providing support for lead teachers in two workshops and running two workshops of my own. I also helped with the development, strategic planning of the organization's growth.

PUBLIC RELATIONS VOLUNTEER | JAN-MAR 2011
SAVANNAH STOPOVER FESTIVAL | ARTS AND CULTURE

The Savannah Stopover Festival is an annual event, where musical artists on their way to SXSW perform in Savannah, Georgia. I publicized the festival to media outlets in the Atlanta, Georgia area and provided on-site support during the key events in the festival.

PR VOLUNTEER | SEP-DEC 2010
THE UNCHAINED TOUR OF GEORGIA | ARTS AND CULTURE

George Dawes Green, novelist and creator of "The Moth," took his band of merry raconteurs to independent bookstores around the state of Georgia. In my position, I publicized the tour through media outlets in the Atlanta, Georgia area.